spring of 2018 where such an individual attacked a student in the student union during hours. Also speaks about the concerns on communication UNLV has with its students when it comes to safety. Agrees with Park about looking into difference resources that each institution has for incidents like these and asses what is useful in order to try and implement system wide.

Opfer informs members abt her concern about safety when students are attending late night classes at NSC. Jackson believes that all these concerns are not necessarily institution specific but system wide.
