Comment:

Boring Company is a grift, and putting hundreds of cars into a tunnel is not a mass transit solution. Light rail, dedicated bus lanes, or an actual subway have proven, in hundreds of municipalities and universities to be effective mass transit option. Hundreds of EVs, each requiring a driver and only able to move 3 or 4 people at a time is objectively bad. Even a first year urban planner or economist can see this is a poor choice.

Agenda Item: Board of Regents Quarterly Meeting-Land Sale for Boring Company/Tesla Loop

In Favor / Opposed / Other: In Opposition

Comment:

The sale of UNLV land to the Boring Co. does nothing to improve the student experience and while there are claims that it would help alleviate issues of traffic and transportation the use of Tesla taxis presents numerous safety hazards and failed promises. Tesla vehicles have a an established history of combusting in a manner that traditional firefighting equipment can not address, doors that can not be manually opened without specialist knowledge or a complete examination of the vehicle or its owners manual, and the current tunnel has drawn criticism for a lack of accessible and properly marked emergency exits or even adequate lighting. Additionally, the current existing tunnel has yet to meet the expectations set by the Boring Co., with the existing tunnel to the Las Vegas convention center failing to meet the advertised sub-three minute transit time for CES '21 even during a decreased attendance due to CoVid resulting in the possibility of financial penalties. The Boring Co. also has stated that they intend to have 60+ installations in the Las Vegas area but has only constructed one major destination stop. The proposed sale of UNLV land to The Boring Co. reflects a lack of awareness of the Nevada University system. While the sale of this land could provide a financial boon, I and other members of the former and current UNLV student population have seen that funds are repeatedly spent on things that do nothing to provide a more fulfillin comfortable or safe attendance at NSHE schools. Please refer to the President of UNLV receiving a housing and vehicle allowance alone larger that exceeds twice the income of many students who work while attending and the constant expansion of UNLV's athletic programs with the football team failing to win a conference or division championship in 10 years. All while dorms fall apart to the extent of raw sewage leaking into the floors of Tonopah dorms, and students are food insecure to the point of requiring a food pantry.

In Dr. Dalpe’s tenure, he has navigated WNC through some of the most challenging tim higher-education. This includes responding to a global pandemic, addressing and overcoming enrollment barriers, supporting a student population with increased academic and mental health needs, and creating a culture of collaboration among faculty and staff. Dr. Dalpe has demonstrated his ability to lead with calmness and confidence, developing relationships that inspire trust. He has provided stability at WNC and in the community.
I urge the Board of Regents to consider Dr. Dalpe’s well established leadership record and support his appointment as President of Western Nevada College.

Nevada State College would benefit from a renaming to Nevada State University. This would help differentiate Nevada State from the four community colleges in Nevada. These community colleges–in particular nearby College of South Nevada–are not required to use the word "Community" in their names and, therefore, this causes confusion as to the differences between the four-year institution of Nevada State College and two-year institutions like College of Southern Nevada (even the abbreviations share the same letters: NSC vs CSN). Allowing Nevada State to use the University name will greatly assist with differentiation.

As the educational landscape of Nevada continues to evolve, it's important that our institutions of higher learning accurately reflect their academic offerings and aspirations. Nevada State College has grown significantly since its establishment in 2002, and now offers over 50 undergraduate and graduate degree programs. In light of this growth and expansion, it's appropriate to change the name of the institution to "Nevada State University" to better reflect its comprehensive and advanced academic mission.

The term "university" carries a connotation of academic excellence, research, and innovation. Adopting this name will better position Nevada State to compete nationally and internationally for top students, faculty, and research funding. Additionally, this change will help to eliminate confusion for prospective students who may mistakenly believe that Nevada State College only offers two-year degrees.

Finally, a name change would signal to the community that Nevada State is a serious and respected institution of higher learning. It would convey to stakeholders that the institution is committed to providing a high-quality education that prepares graduates for success in their chosen fields. Therefore, we strongly support changing the name of Nevada State Colle Nevada State University.

Changing the name of Nevada State would help current and former students. NSC has a big community and how many students they are putting out yearly into the working community has made a huge impact. I am a former nursing student and NSC paved the way for me. changing the name is a crucial step because of how many degrees, classes, and more that are offered. Changing the name will be able to bring even more students and even faculty to accommodate and show the growth of this amazing school. Nevada State University is the next step for NSC!

College of Southern Nevada has dropped the name community. Many employers think that Nevada State is the community college as they do not know the difference between a community college and a state college. All we are wanting is to change our name to Nevada State University. Many state universities have changed their names to be the State University instead of the State College. I am unsure why we cannot do this as well. Nevada seems to always be last in everything. Our mission will still stay the same. There is no need to change. Hello, I am a non-traditional student currently attending NSC to obtain a BA in Criminal Justice. I feel that the renaming of NSC will increase the appeal for new students. It is an institution that should be granted that prestige in name to have "curb appeal" for prospective students. The atmosphere at NSC resembles that of a university and the name should reflect that.

In Favor / Opposed / Other: In Favor

Comment:

NSC should be renamed. They provide the same services as universities and the state needs more university options.

Nevada State is a 4 year institution with graduate programs. This should be reflected in the name due to 2-year institutions now being called state colleges. I support changing the name to Nevada State University.

Comment:

NSC should be renamed Nevada State University. There are several reasons:
1. Currently there is only one main university in the NSHE system. We will be the second major university in Nevada, which will give students an increased choice in where they go to school.
2. UNLV is an R1 university, focusing on research. NSC focuses on teaching.
3. We are already providing four-year baccalaureate degrees and the name change will enable us to advocate for and develop graduate programs.
4. Students from all over the United States may be more inclined to get their degrees from a school with "University" in the name. This will increase enrollment, which will in turn increase funding.

I am a CSN student graduating this spring and have been admitted to Nevada State to complete my bachelor's degree in education. The renaming of Nevada State College would make its name comparable to its Las Vegas counterpart, UNLV, as both institutions graduate qualified teachers. Renaming Nevada State as a university will increase employers' and parents' confidence in the quality of educators Nevada produces. Nevada State's enrollment has doubled over the past decade. It continues to expand its campus and grow as a respected establishment in the community. I cannot attend the live meeting as I work as a substitute teacher, but I strongly implore you to rename NSC.

In my time with Nevada State College, my degree comprised of highly rigorous curriculum, research requirements, ecouraged conference presentations as well as workshops, and campus cultural events beyond the expectations of a state college or simple 4 year institution. They instead placed our name alongside nationally recognized universities, R1 research facilities, and even alongside University of Nevada-Reno and University of Nevada-Las Vegas. As such, these experiences evidence our standing as a recognizable institution deserving of a University rebranding which not only further exemplifies the incredible work of our students, staff, faculty, administrators, and alumni, but creates the opportunity for a larger out of state visible platform showcasing the excellence in Nevada’s and Henderson’s commitment to education and opportunities for young and mature learners across the country. I, for one, cannot wait to receive a newly reprinted degree from Nevada State University that more accurately reflects the life-changing opportunities I was provided there. Thank you for your consideration and I put forth my support to rename NSC to NSU (Nevada State University).

Comment:

As Dean of the School of Nursing, and a 33 year Registered Nurse, I realize the barrier NSC nursing graduates face as they graduate from NSC's School of Nursing with a Bachelor's of Science Degree. Often employers look at the job applicant's school name and decide, based on the term "College", that our graduates carry an Associates Degree. This leads to fewer job opportunities and lower wages for our highly qualified BSN graduates. It makes me sad that Nevada has devalued the Bachelor's level education provided by the State University (because this is truly what we are). It's time to give value to the state's career-focused Bachelor and above university – why would you not? Doing anything less is misleading to the public, and an insult to Nevadans. Let us adopt the name that accurately communicates who we are and what we actually do.

Nevada State has efficiently and consistently served our community for the last 20 years. The institution deserves to be renamed to Nevada State University since its schools and programs are structured and serve as a University. It deserves to be a state University and we are confident that the leadership and the faculty will accomplish the task our community expects from our institution effectively!

Comment:

I have been teaching as an adjunct instructor at NSC for over 12 years. During that time, I have witnessed growth in both programs and student population. Many of the students are first generation and come from underrepresented populations. That, along with a move over the past twenty years of community or junior colleges dropping the name “community or junior” and simply being known as a college. It is time for Nevada State to be recognized as a university where bachelor degrees are granted. As not to be confused with the community colleges nor represent such mischaracterization for our already under represented students. There is no confusion in a degree from a university and Nevada State has rigorous academic programs that serve the Henderson and surrounding community well. Please support this name change.

I will be graduating from the School of Nursing this August, 2023. It is my firm belief that renaming Nevada State College to Nevada State University properly recognizes this school for providing both graduate and undergraduate degrees. Nevada State College has schools within itself, such as the Schools of Liberal Arts, Sciences, Business, and the School of Nursing, which is consistently ranked as one of the top nursing programs in the state of Nevada. Nevada State College is growing rapidly, and the name "college" no longer fits. Nevada State University delivers the right connotation for what this institution provides, and this name change will give our degrees the clout they deserve.
